

182nd, Praire Zoning Held Up by Commission

Proposals to zone the property on the northeast corner of 182nd and Praire Ave. for C-2 use were tabled Wednesday by the Torrance Planning Commission until the area can be cleaned up and plans for development shown.

By a 7-2 vote, with Commissioner J. A. Beasley and William King dissenting, the planners voted to take no further action on the zoning until these conditions are met.

Carl Metzler, 3920 W. 182nd St., said the land now was unsightly and junky and asked that it be cleaned up. The commission agreed with him. G. Mann sought C-3 zoning for the land instead of C-2.

Request Hit

Several nearby residents appeared to hit the request of George J. Rosenblatt, Los Angeles, for a variance to build an six-unit apartment house and garages at the end of Fonthill Ave., just north of 190th St.

Objecting to increased traffic and apartments were Dwayne Mowry, E. E. Carlstrom, E. E. Brown, James Cathcart, Shirley Whalen, and J. E. Gaines. It was indicated that the entrance to the apartments would be on 190th St., not Fonthill.

Planners agreed to hold the matter over two weeks to allow Rosenblatt to hold meetings with the residents to see if agreement could be reached.

Action Delayed

In other action, the commission held over for 30 days a proposed zone change for apartment zoning on property south of Carson St. between Madrona and Maple. Also proposed is commercial zone along the east side of Madrona Ave. between Carson and Monterey and duplex zoning for the southeast corner of Carson and Maple.

At the last meeting, 72 residents had protested the development plans. Several residents sought a home development.

Fur Coat Missing

A full length fur coat valued at $750 was reported missing by Ethel McLeod, 3203 W. Lincoln Dr.

The woman told local police she had been in the hospital and when she returned home she discovered the coat missing from the closet.

IN BALLET . . . Ten-year-old Cathy Grady, daughter of Mrs. Mary Louise Grady, of 2030 W. 161st St., was chosen for the part of Clara in the recent Nutcracker performance given by the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at the Philharmonic Auditorium. She took three curtain calls with Ballerina Gertrude Tyne and George Zorlich. Cathy is a student of Marjorie Peterson.

Prizes Slated For Fifteen Local Voters

The Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce has started a non-partisan "get out the vote" campaign.

The campaign began with an ad in the paper of Thursday reminding people that it is their "duty" as citizens of Torrance to express their wishes by voting for the candidates and issues in the coming April 8 election.

As an added attraction, the members are asking 15 merchants to contribute $15 merchandise certificates. These certificates will be awarded to 15 lucky voters whose ballot numbers will be drawn approximately one week after the election. Voters should hang on to their stubs as the Jaycees have no means of identifying the names, just the list of numbers used.

We cannot express too emphatically that it is the duty of every citizen to register and vote so he can have the type of government and representation that our great

Homeowners Set Meeting

Street lighting will be the topic for discussion Wednesday evening at the March meeting of the Southwood Homeowners meeting. The session will begin at 8 p.m. at the Anza Elementary School.

A member of the Torrance police department will speak to the group on narcotics, the subject of a special series of articles now running in the HERALD.

"Narcotics control and street lighting are of vital importance to our safe community," Homeowner President Jack Curran reported. Homeowner officials expect a large audience at the Wednesday meeting.

Members of the city council spoke about area matters at the February meeting of the group.

country of America was founded on," said Dutch Horlander, Jaycee chairman. "A letter is being prepared to send to all the service clubs and organizations in Torrance asking their cooperation in reminding the people to vote."

Pep Boys in 41st Store On Thursday

The Pep Boys, Manny, Moe and Jack, opened their 41st auto supply store in California Thursday in El Monte at Five Points, 11937 E. Valley Blvd. at Garvey.

This is another step in the company's recently announced multi-million dollar expansion program according to Pep Boys general manager, Murray Rosenfeld. Stores number 42 and 43 will be opened shortly in the Los Angeles metropolitan area with others to follow soon.

The official ribbon cutting ceremony at the new El Monte store was performed by television and motion picture actress Eugenie Paul. Assisting was Mayor William Allen of El Monte; Charles Gallagher El Monte Chamber of Commerce president; Robert Strauss, son of Pep Boys president, M. L. "Moe" Strauss and Rosenfeld. Commenting on current economic conditions, Rosenfeld said, "Sales have never been better for the Pep Boys. 1957 was the best year in our history. We look for 1958 to be even better. California is a growing area. We intend to keep pace with the growth and continued to serve the motoring public to the best of our ability."
